

THE GREEN TOUR

One day Pablo Glass, Monica Plastic and Alejandro Paper went to a concert in Central Park. Harry Metal and Patricia Rubbish were the singers. There was a concert for getting money to help the victims of Haiti. After the concert the people went to the backstage. They saw that they weren't green, and they decided to help them to be green. In the morning the group of friends went to the backstage again and they taught them the eco-world.

The group told them that they needed to recycle paper, plastic, glass, metal and other types of rubbish. Harry Metal and Patricia Rubbish asked them if they wanted to go with them in their tour. Pablo Glass and the rest said that they wanted to go. After the tour, Harry Metal and Monica Rubbish became green. Pablo Glass and the rest were happy because they had helped them.

THE END!
